India Says
Pakistani
Attacking

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India alerted its armed forces today and recalled all personnel on leave as Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan declared that large Pakistani forces were attacking along India's western border.

Chavan told Parliament a brigade—about 5,000 men—of Pakistani infantry supported by tanks was attacking Bihar, about six miles inside territory claimed by India in the disputed Rann of Kutch area.

He said Pakistani forces attacked Bihar Sunday night but were beaten off.

"This morning's news," said Chavan, "states that Pakistan is again attacking Bihar with a brigade of infantry and a sizable force of armor."

The Indians charged that Pakistan had for the first time thrown tanks into the area and that three of them were destroyed.

Pakistan said the fighting resulted from an outbreak of firing by Indian troops.

"Pakistan had to take swift retaliatory action last night in the Chad Bet area of the Rann of Kutch following repeated firing on its positions by the Indian army," a government spokesman said. He said Indian guns were silenced, with heavy Indian casualties.

The United States was reported pressing for an immediate cease-fire and resumption of talks on the territorial dispute.

7 Killed Over
Weekend On
Illinois Roads

At least 7 persons were killed in accidents on Illinois roads and highways last weekend.

Three persons were killed and four others were injured Saturday in a two-car crash on U.S. 20 three miles west of Addison.

Dead were George W. Zitzka of Northlake; his wife Lois, 41, and Henry Back, 54, of Roselle. Injured were three of Zitzka's children and Back's brother. All were reported in fair condition.

George Swedderski, 46, of West Chicago was killed and five others injured Sunday in a collision on Illinois 59 north of Barrington.

Bruce Perry, 32, of Chicago died Sunday of injuries suffered when he was hit by a car driven by Carl Jekls, 48, of Chicago. Police said Perry had driven onto the median strip on Lake Shore Drive. Jekls' car struck Perry earlier Sunday while the victim was standing near his idled car.

Michael O'Dowd, 56, Aurora, Ill., was killed Sunday night when he was struck by an auto while walking along Illinois 3 near Granite City. The driver of the auto, Russell Stages, 23, Madison, was not held.

Mrs. Katherine Kelly, 72, Chicago, was killed Sunday night in a collision on a South Side street. Three other persons were slightly injured.

LBJ Fails To Slow
U.S. Trips Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rapidly rising passport applications indicated today that more Americans than ever before will travel abroad this year.

This is despite — and some say partly because of — President Johnson's effort to discourage the outpouring of U.S. tourists overseas.

As part of his campaign to curb the gold drain, Johnson is plugging "see the U.S.A." vacation trips. "Foreign travel should be encouraged when we can afford it, but not while our payments position remains urgent," he said Feb. 10.

According to preliminary estimates here, about 2.2 million Americans went abroad in 1964. This figure, a new high, does not count travel to Canada and Mexico which are considered within the dollar area.

Sadly Flee
Home After
Dike Break

By ART SRB

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—"My God, we never thought anything like this would ever happen."

Mrs. William Irving spoke rapidly as she hurried about her kitchen Sunday making last minute preparations to flee with her family.

If the rampaging Mississippi River broke through a dike six blocks away from her home, Mrs. Irving and hundreds of other Rock Island residents would be forced from their homes.

"My husband and I have worked 55 years to acquire this home and what else we own," said Mrs. Irving. "If we lose it, we won't get another chance."

As Mrs. Irving spoke, some of her neighbors were loading personal belongings into cars and leaving for homes of friends and relatives. Others were moving to a public school opened Sunday to shelter flood refugees.

Mrs. Irving's husband, an employee of John Deere Co., was hopeful the water would remain below first floor levels.

"I bought a sump pump today and if the water stays in the basement we'll be all right," he said.

Whites
Parade
In Atlanta

By BEN CHESTER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—More than 1,000 cheering, sign-waving whites paraded through downtown Atlanta Sunday behind segregationist Lester Maddox, ignoring heavy rain showers, but detouring when a smoke bomb was thrown in their line of march.

Maddox, the former restaurant owner who was the first person convicted under the 1964 Civil Rights Act, set up the march. He said it was to protest governmental takeover of private property rights.

Police said the bomb, which gave off a reddish-pink smoke, was thrown in front of the marchers by an unidentified white man. Few marchers were aware of the incident as a police captain quickly routed them down another street.

Maddox, who spoke to the group later beside a city park, charged that the federal government is enforcing only the portions of the U.S. Constitution "resulting in centralization of government, loss of private property rights and loss of individual freedom."

The balding, 49-year-old segregationist read a petition which he said would be presented to President Johnson and members of Congress. It asked specific sections of the Constitution be enforced.

Maddox indicated that if the petition is ignored, he would stage another Atlanta march and possibly one in Washington.

The travel count for 1965 won't be in until next year. But applications for passports are a sign of what to expect — and business is booming for the State Department's passport issuers.

The latest cumulative statistics show that for the first nine months of the fiscal year which will end June 30, passport applications ran about 13 per cent ahead of a year ago. This spring the increase has been higher than that — about one-quarter ahead of the 1964 level.

At this rate, the calendar 1965 total of overseas trips by Americans could run well over 2.5 million. Officials figure the travelers' dollar outlays could exceed last year's $3 billion, enough to raise the U.S. deficit on tourism by $200 million. The gap was $1.6 billion in 1964.

Chicago Finds
Use For Smog;
Some Not Sure

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago has finally found a use for smog. It's going to make the city's new $87-million downtown Civic Center beautiful.

At least that's what some say. Others aren't so sure.

The problem is the outside steelwork on the 647-foot structure. It is finished in ugly, scaly rust, a substance rarely found covering today's skyscrapers.

The unusual exterior is made of a steel that is supposed to gradually oxidize, or rust, from its natural reddish coloring to a pretty purplish-black.

A steel company spokesman said Sunday the metal has only been used once before in architecture, although it has been employed for more than 30 years in the production of railroad freight cars.

Chicago's dampness and high air-pollution rate should speed the rusting process, he said.

Acknowledging the widespread criticism of the metal's rusty appearance, the spokesman said, "It all depends on your point of view."

"We think it will be very beautiful in time," the spokesman said. "It's going to turn a cinnamon brown in about two years."

For the man on the street, two years of rust is too long. "I think it is just horrible," said a policeman on duty in front of the Civic Center, which is scheduled to house courtrooms and administrative offices when it opens in the fall.

"It's supposed to get darker and look better — but no matter what they say it will still be rust."

MEDIC DIES AFTER DELIVERING BABY

FAIRFIELD, Iowa (AP)—Dr. Kenneth Cook, 63, collapsed and died in the delivery room of the Jefferson County County hospital shortly after delivering a baby Saturday night.

Cook, a native of Lena, Ill., was performing minor surgery when he fell to the floor. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Earlier Dr. Cook had delivered a boy to Mrs. Wallace Kbrokken of Fairfield. He had practiced medicine in Fairfield for 36 years.

Cook was a graduate of Carthage College, the University of Illinois and Rush Medical College in Chicago.

Survivors include his widow, Irene; a son, Thomas George; and a brother, Robert. Cook of Warren, Ill.

To Review Case
In Killing Of 3
Rights Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review the dismissal by a federal judge of major charges in the killing of three civil rights workers in Philadelphia, Miss.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox, in Jackson, Miss., dismissed a felony indictment against 17 defendants. He also dismissed three of four counts of a misdemeanor indictment against 14 of the 17 men.

The rights workers were Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner, both white and from New York, and James Chaney, a Negro of Meridian, Miss. They were killed the night of June 21, 1964. Their bodies were found under an earthen dam near Philadelphia, Miss., Aug. 4, 1964. All had been shot.

In dismissing the felony indictment, Cox said it did not state an offense against the United States and his court therefore had no jurisdiction.

The 17 had been accused under this indictment of conspiring to use violence to deny the rights of the three workers by killing them.

Appealing directly to the Supreme Court, the Justice Department asked a quick ruling that the conspiracy charge could be prosecuted under a state law passed in 1870. The department also said Cox's dismissal of the misdemeanor counts was erroneous.

The Supreme Court, in announcing it would rule in the case, did not say when arguments would be heard. Under the tribunal's present schedule, the case would not be called before the fall term, beginning Oct. 4.

Boy Aims
Rifle At Motorists

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy, hidden by waving grass on a windy hillside, fired down with a high-powered rifle on passing cars on busy U.S. 101 Sunday.

Michael Andrew Clark killed two persons, injured 11, engaged officers in a rattling, 1½-hour gunfire exchange and then took his own life by shooting himself between the eyes.

Authorities said the sniper's parents, Forrest and Joyce Clark of Long Beach, 200 miles south of the battle scene, reported the boy had run away from home Saturday night in the family car.

Sunday afternoon, the couple identified their son's clothes, broken eyeglasses, a cigarette lighter emblazoned with a Playboy bunny emblem — and his body.

Officers quoted Mrs. Clark as saying: "I just can't understand it. I'd like to talk to those poor people who were shot at. But what can I say?"

Killed by bullets from the youth's 30-06 Swedish Mauser deer rifle, equipped with a telescopic sight, were Charles Christopher Hogan, 21, of San Luis Obispo, and Joel W. Kocub, 28, of Los Angeles.

Of the wounded, two were critically hurt—Bill Reida, 42, of Norwalk, shot in the neck and shoulder, and his son, Kevin Dean, 5, shot in the head. The child was in critical condition after brain surgery at Santa Barbara's Cottage Hospital, 160 miles south. Another son, Kim Allen, 3, also was shot in the head but not seriously hurt. GETS PURPLE HEART
AFTER 23 YEARS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—George Barr, 48, of Rock Island, Ill., has finally received a Purple Heart for his part in the 1942 Tokyo raid.

Barr was a navigator on the last plane to take off on the raid under Lt. James H. Doolittle and the last man to return home.

Barr received the medal from Doolittle, now retired, Saturday at the group's 23rd annual reunion. Lt. Col. Carroll V. Glines discovered Barr had never received the award while doing research on his new book "Doolittle's Tokyo Raiders."

A former basketball star at Northland College in Ashland, Wis., Barr is now employed at the Rock Island Arsenal.

DEFENDS SONIC BOOMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency says a series of sonic boom tests has proved harmless to 2,000 incubator eggs. As result, it believes the public, too, can learn to live with the artificial thunder claps of a proposed Super-sonic Transport (SST).

Studies in Oklahoma and New Mexico indicate that the expected boom of an SST could prove more acceptable than the booms created by Air Force fighter planes.

McNamara Raps
Red AggressionMay Lead
To Talks
On Viet Nam

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has notified Britain and several other countries that it will "gladly participate" in a proposed nine-nation conference on Cambodia. Such a gathering could lead to informal talks on ending the Vietnamese war.

The decision to participate in a Cambodian conference, if one is called, was made last week by President Johnson. He already has decided that he would name Ambassador W. Averell Harriman as U.S. delegate to such a meeting.

The U.S. readiness to attend was announced Sunday night by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said:

"It has been proposed that an international conference composed of the governments of the countries which took part in the Geneva conference of 1954 be called to consider the question of the neutrality and territorial integrity of Cambodia."

"After reviewing this proposal with the President last week and at his direction, we have informed a number of interested governments that if such a conference is called we will gladly participate."

"The President would appoint Ambassador Averell Harriman as our representative to the discussions."

The British government, which with the Soviet Union was co-chairman of the 1954 Geneva conference on Southeast Asia, has been working with the Soviet Union and other countries for several weeks to see whether it would be possible to arrange a meeting on Cambodia.

The original proposal for the meeting came from Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk as an evident move to secure the independence of his country which is a neighbor of South Viet Nam.

Britain's major interest in the proposed conference, however, obviously has been that it would bring together representatives of many governments directly or indirectly involved in the war in South Viet Nam and would thus afford an opportunity for Vietnamese peace talks.

The nine nations which could have been included in the meeting are the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, France, Communist China, North Viet Nam, South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

GRANT CUBAN VISA—LONDON (AP)—Julio Cesar del Castillo, Cuban consul-general in London, has been granted a visa to live in the United States, the U.S. Embassy said Sunday.

A London newspaper had reported that Del Castillo, 64, dejected and is aboard the British liner Queen Mary bound for New York. The ship is scheduled to dock Tuesday.

A Cuban Embassy spokesman said nothing was known there about a defection. The spokesman added that Del Castillo had been recalled to Havana and was due there at the end of this month.

NUMEROUS GO-GETTING ILLINOISANS OVERSEAS

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO (AP)—Go-getting Illinoisans are becoming familiar figures in big cities overseas.

A party of businessmen left for the Orient Sunday under the aegis of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry. A similar group made the rounds of European fairs last year.

Gov. Otto Kerner led a trade mission to Europe in 1963. He plans to head an expedition to the Far East in November.

This kind of travel calls attention to the fact that Illinois is at or near the top of the list of states in exports.

The latest statistics from the U.S. Department of Commerce showed exports of manufactured products reported by Illinois manufacturers in 1963 totaled $1,056,900,000 in value. That placed Illinois in the No. 1 spot ahead of New York and California.

Federal figures also showed that exports of farm products from Illinois in the 1962-63 fiscal year added up to $324 million — a volume exceeded only by California's.

Talks with authorities on the subject point to a number of reasons why Illinois — 800 miles from an ocean — is riding so high in salt water trade.

Grain shipments are tremendous.

Heavy machinery cargoes, such as earth-moving machinery, tractors, printing and farm equipment and machinery used in factories, boost the dollar measure of exports.

Illinois is on the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway shipping lane, the lakes-to-gulf waterway and a network of railroads.

In addition to industrial diversity, the state has good soil. It is tops in soybean production and second only to Iowa in corn.

DOMINICAN PLANES HIT

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Dominican air force planes today strafed barracks and positions of army rebels seeking to return ex-President Juan D. Bosch to power.

The planes took off in support of Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, whose tank force is bottled up at the San Isidro airbase outside this capital. Wessin is opposed to Bosch's return, although he apparently has now consented to the removal of the civilian junta headed by Donald Reid Cabral.

Rebel troops blocked off approaches to the capital from San Isidro.

There was no report whether the air strikes were successful. Details also were lacking in respect to casualties.

The provisional government set up by the rebel military commanders after their takeover Sunday announced that Wessin had been ordered discharged as commander of the armed forces.

Rebel leaders said they intended to restore Bosch to power. He was ousted in September 1963.

The Army That Never Kills

If any institution is respected and respectable today the world over it is the Salvation Army. Yet its founding 100 years ago scandalized and shocked Victorian England.

This hypocritical, tea-sipping society, where even piano legs were referred to as "limbs," was scandalized that anyone should dare to point to the vice and crime and degradation that festered behind its facade of polite gentility.

It was shocked that anyone could consider thieves and drunkards and beggars as victims of circumstance and not willful sinners, and actually go among them and attempt to elevate their lives and their aspirations.

The "anyone" was William Booth, a dedicated young minister working with the impoverished masses of London's slums.

He soon learned that nothing could be accomplished by preaching to people with empty stomachs. No one could be led to God, he found, if he were rejected by society.

As a result, he set up soup kitchens, provided shelter for homeless men and later, rescue homes for "fallen women." His object was not handouts but the physical and moral means to enable these people to achieve self-respect and independence.

The Salvation Army was born. The year was 1865.

Booth was an advanced social thinker who attacked all the injustices of the political and economic system of his day. He advocated a program of reform that included rehabilitation homes for alcoholics, nursery care for children of working mothers, schools for poor children, low-income housing, probation for first offenders and a missing persons bureau.

He even went so far as to assert that the government owed every man the food necessary to keep him alive while he searched for work.

Inevitably, Booth was considered a dangerous radical. Early Salvationists were scorned by the "better" classes, even attacked by mobs and sent to jail.

Today, in its centennial year, one million Salvation Army workers operate in 71 geographic areas and 147 languages. The army's hospitals, nurseries, camps, settlements, community centers, casework, counseling, disaster aid and much more continue into a second century the great work begun by General William Booth.

"I Haven't Had a Square Meal Since Lunch!"

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson couldn't miss the lesson from the Truman administration's experience book of 15 years ago. Johnson was in the Senate then and he lived through it.

This can explain why news stories, without revealing their sources, over the weekend said the Johnson administration, although seeing no need for them now, has not ruled out using nuclear weapons in Viet Nam.

If this administration ever indicated it would never use such weapons, and then the Vietnamese war took a grim turn, his critics could say he had invited the Communists to get tougher.

This was what happened to President Harry S. Truman, although in different fashion.

In the late 1940s the United States had a long and unhappy time of it with Chiang Kai-shek in his war against the Red Chinese. American aid and weapons were wasted.

The Reds drove Chiang off the China mainland in late 1949. He and the Nationalist troops he had left fled to Formosa. Truman publicly washed his hands of the Nationalist leader in talking to newsmen on Jan. 5, 1950.

The president said this country would take no action to save Formosa from a Red invasion. Secretary of State Dean Acheson backed him up, saying Chiang had enough money to buy all the arms he needed.

The two men made these statements after some Republicans — particularly former President Herbert Hoover and Sen. Robert A. Taft — had urged defense of Formosa by the U.S. Navy.

After Truman's hands-off announcement there were more Republican protests. The Republican Senate leader, Kenneth S. Wherry, said Truman's position was an invitation to the Communists to take Formosa.

Truman later had to do an about-face and send the Navy to protect Formosa — and it has been doing that ever since — but this was only after the start of the Korean War later that year.

But this was only one of the statements which were later used against the Truman administration. On Jan. 12, 1950, seven days after Truman's hands-off talk, Acheson made a public talk he was never allowed to forget.

He said the American "defensive perimeter" in the Pacific ran from the Aleutian Islands to Japan and down through the Ryukyu Islands, south of Japan, to the Philippines. He didn't mention Formosa.

And he didn't put Korea within the defensive perimeter. But he added something which certainly could apply to Korea but which his critics later ignored or found it convenient to forget.

He said: No one could guarantee other Pacific areas from attack but if it came the people attacked would have to depend first on their own resistance and then upon the "civilized world" through the United Nations.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur drew the same perimeter a few months later but Acheson's critics never seemed to remember that.

But after the North Korean Communists attacked South Korea in June 1950, Sens. Joseph McCarthy and Taft distorted Acheson's words by saying he had announced the United States would not defend Korea.

This distortion continued to be used against Acheson long afterwards. Actually, as soon as the Reds attacked on June 25, the United Nations called for a cease-fire. The Reds ignored this.

The next day, June 26, Truman ordered American forces to Korea and was immediately backed by the United Nations. This was when Truman also ordered Formosa defended.

Truman had several thoughts about using the A-bomb in Korea. On July 27, three months before Red China got into the war, he said he wasn't even considering it.

After China rushed in, Truman on Nov. 30 told newsmen the United States would use every weapon necessary but didn't want to see the A-bomb used.

Long after he left the White House, Truman wrote that MacArthur wanted to use the bomb when the Chinese came in. But, Truman said, that "might very well have brought on World War III."

More than 83 thousand new and rebuilt freight cars were placed in service on American railroads in 1964, more than double the 1962 total.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

English Doctors Working On Rh Factor Problems

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., a destruction of the red blood corpuscles of the newborn. In response to a column on Rh factor, I have been showered with requests for more information. The work on the so-called blocking antibodies, which I mentioned, is being done by Drs. R. Finn and C.A. Clarke in Liverpool, England. Although it shows promise, it is still experimental. These observers have found evidence that an Rh-negative woman is sensitized to the Rh-positive blood of the baby she is carrying at the time of delivery rather than earlier in the course of pregnancy.

This would account for the fact that it is rare for first-born infants to be affected by the Rh incompatibility of their parents. When the baby is affected there is usually a history of a previous miscarriage. The blocking antibodies are given immediately after the birth of the first-born. To give them during pregnancy would damage the unborn child.

Since other means of desensitizing the mother have not been found, treatment of the affected infant immediately after he is born still offers the best chance of saving his life.

One mother wants to know what kind of disease Rh incompatibility causes. Briefly, it is a disease of the newborn. It is a term that includes celiac disease and similar conditions. Children who have this disease have a persistent diarrhea which keeps them from gaining weight. On a carefully controlled gluten-free diet most of them will outgrow it by the age of 9 or 10. In some, however, the disease may persist into the late teens.

Q — I hear more and more of young parents who casually give their small children aspirin to quiet them. Is this practice harmful?
A — This is indeed a bad practice. Aside from the possibility of an overdose, there is danger of irritating the baby's stomach and causing indigestion. This would make the baby fuss and the mother would, I suppose, give him more aspirin thereby setting up a vicious cycle. Normal babies sleep peacefully without drugs. When they are awake they should be talked to and played with. If a baby cries more than he should, the mother should have the doctor determine the cause and suggest a remedy.

We, the Women Before You Jump from Frying Pan Into Job—

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Trying to decide whether you ought to stick to full-time homemaking, or get a paying job and join the ever-increasing numbers of working wives?

Perhaps these questions will help you figure out whether you can successfully hold down two jobs.

One. Are you well-organized? (It takes a good organizer to combine homemaking and a job, and do both well.)

Two. If you pitch in to help him earn a living, is your husband the kind of man who would pitch in and help you with the home duties? (If your husband is helpless around the house, maybe you had better be helpless about earning a paycheck.)

Three. Do you find the life of a full-time homemaker somewhat dull and lacking in challenge? (If so, maybe you were meant for a career.)

Four. What does your husband think about a wife's working? Does he take pride in being solely responsible for the support of his family? (It's important not to overlook how your husband would feel about your working.)

Five. Are you relaxed and happy with your children, or do they make you cross and irritable and resentful? (It's much harder to replace a good mother with hired help than one who finds the care of children difficult and unrewarding.)

Six. If you should get a job, would you and your husband use your pay check wisely—putting it aside for some worthwhile project? Or would it be frittered away on gadgets and on keeping up with the Joneses? (You should have a pretty good idea of how you and your husband would handle extra income.)

Seven. Would you and your husband feel more secure if you both knew that there would be your pay check in case anything should happen to him? (A wife's earning power can mean a lot to both a husband's and wife's peace of mind.)

27 Million Headaches? ... Then Barry Remembered

By WASHINGTON STAFF
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The thirteenth annual Republican Women's Conference, concluded here recently, must be considered somewhat of a bust.

For the most part, the gathering of more than 2,100 GOP women from all parts of the country was a listless audience, responding without enthusiasm to the exhortations of a battery of speakers which included some of the biggest names in their party.

Several of these speakers, though, came up with good lines. Barry Goldwater, the GOP standard-bearer last year, confessed to the ladies that he's been catching up on his relaxation for the last five months.

"Peggy (Mrs. Goldwater) and I have just been enjoying the beautiful Arizona sunsets. Occasionally we watch television," Goldwater said.

"The other night we saw a commercial which began: 'Over 27 million people have switched to this headache remedy.' I asked Peggy, 'How could 27 million people get a headache?' 'And then I remembered!'"

Some of the speakers appeared to be a bit baffled at how to approach the all-female audience. Said Goldwater: "During the campaign, I got all sorts of advice on how to approach every type of audience. One of the most interesting pieces of advice was that there was only one way to approach an audience of Republican women. Only trouble was that my adviser didn't have the vaguest idea of what that way might be."

Senate minority leader Everett Dirksen, never at a loss for words before any audience, nevertheless

Dear Ann: Tolerates Husband's Spankings

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm so shocked I'm not sure I can express myself properly. A lovely woman I've known for years (we are both in our middle 30's) confided that her husband spanks her when she displeases him. She asked if my husband ever spanked me. When I told her I would never tolerate such an indignity she looked at me as if I was crazy.

Then she went on to defend her husband by saying he never spanked her unless she deserved it. "And," she added, "I usually feel a lot better after it is over."

I always thought only low class slum dwellers hit their wives. This woman is well-to-do and prominent. Is something wrong with him — or with her? — STILL SHAKING

Dear Ann Landers: All kinds of men hit their wives and they live in mansions, on suburban estates — and in the low rent districts.

There is indeed something wrong with him, AND with her, too.

A woman who tolerates a spanking is as sick as the man who gives her one. It's both strange and interesting how these physical looks seem to find each other. My guess is that they rehearse a little before marriage.

Dear Ann Landers: I spent the weekend with a relative in Montana. Opal was always lackadaisical and not what you'd call the world's best housekeeper. I didn't go there to inspect her house, however, and this is not what I'm writing about.

One afternoon Opal prepared a meat loaf. She called the dog in from outside and let him lick the bowl clean. I almost got sick. When Opal put the bowl in the dishwasher with the family's dishes I felt this was too much. I told her I thought it was a very unhealthy thing to do because dogs that run loose get into garbage cans and heaven knows what all.

She said I was out of my head, that scalding water and soap will kill almost any germ. She seemed so positive that I'm eager to hear your answer. —SAL

Dear Sal: My answer wouldn't mean much, so I checked with an authority and his answer:

A Chicago doctor of veterinary medicine said your Montana relative is correct—that scalding water and soap will kill almost any germ. He said further that it's O.K. to let the dog lick the cooking bowl and then wash the bowl with the family dishes.

So, there's your answer Madame — right from the vet's mouth. I still wouldn't do it, regardless of who said it was all right, simply because the whole idea is repulsive to me.

Dear Ann Landers: My wedding is several months off but I am planning ahead so everything will be perfect. I asked my dearest friend to be my matron of honor six weeks ago. She accepted.

Sunday we were at the pool together and she told me she didn't think she should dive off the high board because she is four months pregnant. This means she will be in her eighth month when she stands up for me.

She knew she was pregnant when I asked her. Do you feel it was fair of her to accept? My mother is mad as a wet hen. —UNDEE-SYDED

Dear Un: You said you asked this young woman to be your matron of honor because she was your dearest friend. Does being pregnant make her less dear?

Maternity clothes today don't look very different than some of the latest fashions. In fact it's hard to tell what's cooking under the shifts and the Empress line gowns. Help her select a dress that hangs loose, and you hang loose, too. Doll.

DEAR POLLY - Being of Spanish descent, we teach our without realizing they are learn-

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was a meeting at the summit, a sentimental reunion of Peggy Lee and her oldtime boss, Benny Goodman, in her penthouse apartment high above the Sunset Strip.

The famous pair met with director Nick Castle and members of Miss Lee's rhythm combo to plan her re-teaming with Benny after a lapse of 22 years. It will take place next week at Melodyland in Anaheim, and aficionados of the swing era will consider it an historic event.

Such types, now pushing bravely through their 40s, can get choked up as they recall gawking before bandstands in the war years and listening to the agile clarinet of the King of Swing and the languorous tones of his beautiful blonde singer. "Why doncha do right," she would moan, "like some other men do-oo."

Peggy sang with Goodman for only two years, 1941 to 1943, but their collaboration remains a memorable one. It resumed recently when Benny dropped in to hear his onetime employee at Basin Street East in New York.

SILO SANDWICH—A technique for storing feed in layers developed on Ohio dairy farms is producing prize-winning forage. The system, such as employed here on the Baumann brothers' farm near Amherst, calls for a base of first-cut alfalfa in a horizontal bunker silo. Layers of corn silage and additional alfalfa are added. Old tires are used to weight the covering tarp. The mixture yields a high-protein balanced forage.

He got up on the stand, borrowed a clarinet and noodled with Peggy through a few choruses of — horrors — a Beatles tune. "Hard Day's Night."

The audience went wild. "Why don't you come out and play Melodyland with me?" Peggy asked.

"Why not?" answered Benny. So here they are. If the engagement is a success, it may lead to more engagements together.

The whole thing started, Benny recalled, when he and his wife dropped in for a nightcap in the Buttery of the Ambassador Hotel in Chicago.

"I heard this girl sing and right away I knew she had something," he said. "I was always looking for new talent, so I decided to give her a try."

Peggy made her debut in the Flame Room of the Sherman Hotel, and she was admittedly bad.

"I was painfully shy — had no stage presence whatsoever," she said. "All the songs were in Helen Forrest's key, and she sang higher than I did. The reviews were horrible and even the boys in the orchestra wouldn't talk to me — I might have fainted if they did." Peggy was ready to pack up and head back for North Dakota, but Benny talked her out of it. He told her she would improve, and she did. She started clicking with records of "Somebody Else Is Taking My Place" and "Why Don't You Do Right?"

April In South Viet Nam Is Month Of Suffocating Heat, Epidemics

VINH LONG, South Viet Nam (AP) — April is a time of long, perspiration-soaked siestas in Viet Nam.

School is out, and families who have enough money go away to the mountains for some cool air.

In the Mekong Delta, April is a month of suffocating heat, plague and cholera epidemics, disastrous slum fires and particularly brutal guerrilla fighting.

This week, a sentry was standing guard at a small bridge in the sunbaked delta, listlessly watching jeeps, cars and trucks move across. The rumble of howitzer fire rolled across the distant fields.

In the closer distance, the crackle of small arms fire announced a skirmish. Two uniformed figures were trudging across a field carrying a litter. On the litter was a mortally wounded man. He was yelling with pain, but the bearers walked stolidly along. It was too hot to run.

Over a far horizon, a quartet of American jets appeared and vanished, trailing a slight roar. Everything was normal. The sentry sat down on a stool, cradled his rifle in his arms, and closed his eyes for a snooze.

A half dozen peasant women were peeling and slicing pineapples by the bridge, hawking their fruit to passing vehicles. Children in tattered black pajamas scurried up and down the banks of the stream filling cans with the muddy water for cooking rice in a nearby hamlet.

No one seemed much interested in the nearby shooting. A squad of troops wearing red neckerchiefs moved across the dusty road in single file, laughing and chattering. One of the men had killed a guerrilla earlier in the day and had found a good watch on the Communist. He was still bragging about his find.

At a command tent a few miles down the road, several radios were screeching and cracking as a handful of staff officers scribbled notes, marked maps, and barked orders into a microphone. Flies were swarming over a pile of empty soft drink bottles. In a corner, an orderly sat in a hammock reading a movie magazine.

To all appearances, the war here is going exactly as it has been going for the five years — nowhere.

Periodically, one side or the other mounts a big offensive, and there are sometimes very heavy casualties.

Outposts must be manned, occasional assaults must be run, and families must be clothed and fed. There is still a long war ahead.

"We have the belief," a Vietnamese officer said, "that it is sometimes quicker to walk than to run. As you saw the other day, some American officers tried to hurry too much, and they collapsed of heat prostration."

"In this war it is not enough to fight hard. You must also be able to last."

SACKETTES PLAN RUMMAGE SALE

The Jacksonville Sackettes met recently at the Amvet home. The opening prayer was given by Lucy Stillwell, story and correspondence were read by Millie Poole, and Irene Sanders gave the financial report.

Snappiest, Bernadine Lahr, announced a rummage sale on May 18. Rummage should be at the Amvet home by May 17. The next meeting will be May 17 with an election of officers.

A social hour followed with the Sad Sacks, and refreshments were served.

HOW TO CLAW YOUR WAY INTO COLLEGE

A quick start is needed to beat the competition. Get moving while you're a junior or you may get shut out.

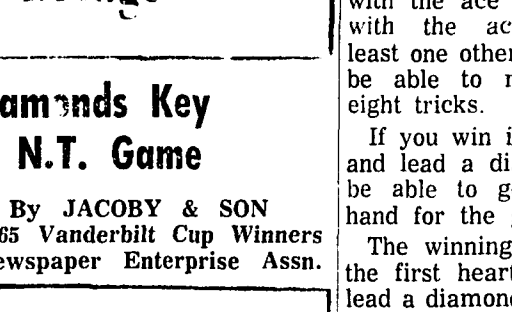

Check with your high school adviser. He'll point you in the right direction, but it's up to you to carry the ball.

Study those brochures. They'll explain requirements, courses, procedures and give you a general idea about schools.

Be sure to visit schools in which you're interested. Talk to staff members and don't be afraid to ask questions.

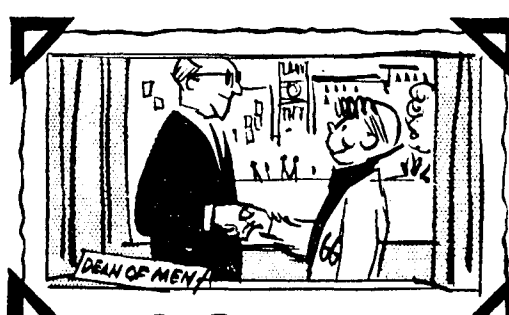

Find a college that suits your needs. Make sure a variety of courses are offered in your major interest. A limited number of basic courses will not be sufficient. Once you've made up your mind, don't play heat the clock. Make you have time to meet deadlines and complete applications and tests.

With more than 50 per cent of today's high school graduates going on to college, the competition to gain admittance to the halls of ivy is ferocious. This is especially true of students in the middle of their class or below. Many qualified students never get to college because they fail to carefully plan their attack on the world of academics. Following the six tips illustrated here will help some students claw their way into college. More information may be obtained from the Association of College Admissions Counselors, Evanston, Ill., and the Catholic College Admissions and Information Center, Washington, D.C.

Paul Lukacs is the greatest composer of the single dummy problem. In this problem you are shown just declarer's hand and the dummy and it is up to you to find the winning play.

Here is a very simple one. You are South and West opens the jack of hearts against your three no-trump contract. The hand looks like a cinch. It seems that all your opponents can do is to gather in four tricks against you and it is a cinch if you play it correctly.

You win the heart lead in dummy and your first thought is to attack that fine club suit. If you do attack it one of your opponents will take the ace and lead a second heart and you will be in trouble. If you win in dummy and run off the five good clubs you will have to make five discards. These will be three diamonds and two spades. Then if East shows up with the ace-queen and at least one other spade you won't be able to make more than eight tricks.

If you win in your own hand and lead a diamond you won't be able to get back to your hand for the good diamonds.

The winning play is to take the first heart in dummy and lead a diamond. If you win that trick you go after clubs and make nine tricks. If an opponent takes his ace of diamonds he also will have no way to beat you.

Business Mirror

By DAVID L. COWGER
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)

The government's decision to cut the flow of seasonal foreign farm labor to the United States in order to provide more jobs for domestic labor will probably also lead to increased farm mechanization.

There may be fewer jobs in the vegetable crops industry, but jobs that will require greater skills and offer more permanency at higher pay.

Growers have maintained that the domestic labor supply is inadequate, especially in the peak harvest seasons. They have counted on the availability of foreign labor to supplement the domestic force. With this assurance gone, they should be expected to turn elsewhere — to mechanization.

In California, where the $3.64-billion-a-year agricultural business is the state's biggest single industry, growers are looking ahead four or five years to the day when machines will replace most of the human labor employed today. Already cotton, once the biggest user of hand labor, is almost fully mechanized.

The trend has extended to vegetable crops. For years tomatoes were harvested solely by laborers. Today about 20 machines bring in part of the state's rich crop. Each replaces 50 migrant laborers but provides permanent jobs for 14 to 20 men. Some progress also has been made in developing harvesters for melons, asparagus and lettuce.

For the time being, however, most growers depend almost completely on manual labor. Until the 14-year-old Public Law 78 expired last December, foreign laborers could be counted on by the 1 per cent of U.S.

growers using them. Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is now considering use of the Immigration and Nationality Act, which permits a limited number to enter the country for temporary work providing the need is established.

Now that the hourly wage has been raised from $1 to $1.40 it is Wirtz's contention, and that of organized labor, that more domestic labor would go to the fields if housing were improved. During an inspection of migrant housing in California last month Wirtz repeatedly showed his unhappiness with existing conditions.

California has moved on this front. The state plans to build temporary housing for 1,000 migrant families in time for the September harvest. A $2-million federal antipoverty grant, plus $200,000 in state funds, will finance the project. But since 161,250 migrant workers were employed last year in California, the state's effort is modest at best.

For the Council of California Growers this emphasis on housing is obviously regarded as an interim measure. As one spokesman said recently: "The ultimate solution is mechanization."

against tiny impurities in gasoline

(before they get to your tank!)

Most gasolines are clean when they leave the refinery. But on the way to your car—in transit and in storage—they pick up impurities that could choke off power, reduce engine efficiency...could even stop you cold. Automotive engineers asked for an answer to this problem—American Oil Research developed the American FINAL/FILTER. It guards against tiny impurities (present in all gasolines) right at the pump nozzle. If you depend on your car for your livelihood (and even if you don't) it pays to "fill 'er up filtered" with American, Regular or American, Super-Premium.

Prayer Poem Prayer Of Faith Is Answered

By Mary Pence Claywell

The prayer of "Faith" is answered, before our words are cold. . . .
In "Mark eleven, twenty four," it's written, Lord, of old: It's "right" that we should thank Thee, in faith, and look ahead,
And for Thy Answer, quietly wait . . . nor stew, around instead:
For faith is made of stouter things, and if we doubt You Hear us,
We've nothing left to stand upon, and "Comfort," comes, not near us:
So often, we have read Thy Words. . . "Wait on The Lord," and still In frantic prayers, we urge Thee to "Haste. . . nor wait Thy Will:
And, when through "Faith," an answer comes, not always, as we prayed,
We still may feel You didn't Hear, and often. . . we're afraid:
But when our "hearts" get right with Thee, and "faith" takes hold at last,
We find the Answer, that You Gave . . . much "Better" . . . than we ask:
For always, what Thou givest, exceeds our own request, And always in the end, we find Your Answer. . . is the best!

Flying Under Water

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

The Electric Boat and Convair Divisions are studying the possibility of making a unique new type of flying boat for the U.S. Navy. This jet-powered sea-plane would take off for a target 345 to 632.5 miles distant at a speed of 172.5 to 258.75 miles per hour. Within 57.5 miles of the target the plane would dive into the water and attack like a submarine from a depth of up to 75 feet, at a speed of 57.5 miles per hour.

Through this maneuver the Sub-Plane could deliver its torpedoes much more quickly than even the fastest nuclear submarine. Also during the attack it could evade both anti-aircraft and anti-submarine defenses by switching from the air to the water and back.

In the water its small size would make it harder for sonar to detect than a conventional submarine. By taking off from an island base or a carrier the Sub-Plane could escape anti-submarine forces that might be watching the ports from which conventional submarines would depart.

Not First Sub-Plane
The General Dynamics study is not the first study of the Sub-Plane concept, however. Since 1957, Donald V. Reid, of Waukegan, New Jersey, a member of the Experimental Aircraft Pilots Association, has been working on a Sub-Plane of his own.

Reid's craft looks very much like a smaller, propeller-driven version of the Sub-Plane proposed by General Dynamics. Reid calls his 30-foot-long, 28-foot wing span, Sub-Plane a Flub or Flying Sub.

The Flub made its first successful test - flight on August 8, 1961, with Reid's 28-year-old son, Bruce Reid, as test pilot. The craft was able to get up a speed of 60 miles per hour during this flight in spite of the fact that its submarine power plant made it tail heavy.

Under The Water
The next day the Flub was given its first submersion test. For this test the airplane propeller and engine, mounted atop a conning tower in the center of the craft, were wrapped up tight in a water proof tarpaulin. The craft's pontoons and ballast tanks were then flooded and it submerged to the 10-foot-deep bottom of the pond it was being tested in then surfaced again.

Here Is The Answer

By Bill Mitchell

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a paper written by a student in Mrs. Corey's sight saving class at IBSSS. Another paper appeared recently and a third will be published on this page soon. The class is studying the race problem.

LORD MAKES US ALL

Negroes have the right to vote and live as we do. They are no different than we are. Color of skin should not make any difference in keeping Negroes from voting.

The Lord made us all whether we are white, or black, or yellow. We are all brothers!

The white people should give the colored people more doctors, schools, hospitals, and be their friends not their enemies. We should help them to live better than they do now.

Right To Protest

They have every right in the world to protest. In order to vote colored people are often made to recite the Constitution when the whites can't do it themselves. Few of the best lawyers in the United States can recite all of the Constitution or Declaration of Independence.

The President of the United States has not been doing what he was put into office for. He should have taken action when it started.

I am white but I am more for the Negro people. We have no right to keep the colored people from the simple basic rights, such as using the same public accommodations.

Why?

Why do the white people do this? My answer is fear and desire to be superior. The easiest way to do this was to take advantage of someone! And the negroes are their victims.

People should look back to the Declaration of Independence where it states "that all man are created equal."

That means white and black should have equal rights. They are not slaves anymore and they must never be treated like slaves again as long as they live. They are entitled to their rights just as we are! Slavery has been abolished for 100 years. It must stay abolished for ever and ever.

The Negroes will have their rights before 1970. We hope before then because if they don't there will be more tragedy.

Need Help Now
The Negroes need help now, today, or they will turn against the white and then we will have more fighting, that is the last thing we need. So let us make friends not enemies.

Act Now!!! And Help!!! They are calling for assistance and they will get it sooner or later. Help them! Will you? You can because it means a lot.

Put yourselves in their place and see what they need to help them.

We are grateful for the doctors, nurses, hospitals, colleges, etc. Negroes do not have enough of them.

Why do people do things like turning over cars, killing people, etc. What do they get out of this?

My answer would be that people do this because they see or hear of it on T.V. or on radios, of people doing this.

How did all this start? My reply is that, it all started when the Negroes were not allowed to vote and they took action to protest. No one can stop them now, it is their right to protest.

The Declaration of Independence states that "all men have the right of freedom of speech." So the Negro has that right too. But do they? No, they do not have this right. It is our privilege to see that they do.

Let's Go Birding

Oregon Junco

By Emma Mae Leonard

The Junco is one of the most common sparrows of America. Until scientists came along and saw different races of Juncos we used to call them Snowbirds, particularly in childhood and poetry.

It was after 1830 that the word "Junco" was first brought into scientific use, and "Junco" it is to name our common winter bird, plain slate-color for gray winter skies; white bill, white underparts, and white - edged tail for the white winter snow.

And we call our eastern Junco the Slate-colored Junco.

True Winter Bird
It is a true winter bird, tame and congenial. It comes to kitchen doors for bread crumbs and any kind of chicken-feed which we may toss out; it skitters gracefully in and out of the bushes in the garden, lipping its characteristic "tsip" or clicking its ivory-like bill. When spring comes, it sings its low, sweet, unpretentious song of farewell and leaves for its cooler summer home and breeding grounds.

Over the Rocky Mountains and Pacific Coast nearly twenty varieties of Juncos have been credited. East of the Rockies we claim one great variety, the Slate colored or Eastern Junco. The other varieties show all kinds of interesting varieties of color; but the habits of feeding, singing, and nesting are much alike.

Perhaps the handsomest westerner is the Oregon Junco, with a black head and breast, sharply defined against a mahogany-brown back, white under parts, and pinkish-brown sides. It is of the North Pacific coast.

Wander Into Jacksonville
Somehow a few of these Oregon Juncos have found their way to our section. Every winter we discover one or two around the Girl Scout area or Diamond Grove Cemetery.

However, this last winter an Oregon Junco visited several sections of Jacksonville. It appeared as a regular diner at Tom Crabtree's feeding station on East State, at Bill O'Brien's feeding station at Passavant Drive, at the Manns' home on Prospect, and Bob Hemphill's yard on Lockwood.

Was this the same Oregon Junco a kind of cosmopolitan one calling around for good company and good food? Whatever its purpose, it rewarded the ones whom it visited and who saw it.

We could see reflected on its grayish brown back and sides the trace of the pinks of the sunrise and the sunset which penetrate the gray winter mornings and evenings. It was our Snowbird sparkling in the pink-tinted winter world and untinged the western sun and the eastern sun into one world.

Three Good Friends

By John Rankin

Mark and his collie Duke like to visit the quiet little home of retired lawyer Mr. Jake. One day the peaceful cabin is disturbed by a man named Twigs who claims Duke killed his calf, and tells of seeing the dog by moonlight out there burying a bone. Mr. Jake begins to question the man closely.

"Ah, to watch a dog bury a bone would be a treat for any nature lover. How did this big fellow go about it?" asked Mr. Jake softly. "What did he do with the thing while he was digging the hole?"

"He laid it on the ground of course," Twigs retorted. "Then he picked the bone up with his teeth, dropped it in the hole and covered it carefully with his front feet and trotted off."

Sheriff Morley moved to the door. "I've heard enough of this sort of nonsense," he said impatiently. "Come along, Twigs, it's time we headed across the mountain."

Mark ran to the door and watched as Twigs and the sheriff rode away. Then he turned his face with a triumphant grin on his boyish features.

"Gee, Mr. Jake," he chirped, "you really had that creepy little guy plenty worried. I'll bet you were a real keen lawyer in your day."

"Well, maybe so, son," the elderly man admitted with a modest grin. "But trot along home now, and tell your dad to do nothing about this thing until he hears from me. In the morning I'll get on a horse and see what we can dig up about this fellow Twigs and his slaughtered calf."

It was early afternoon a week later when the door to Mr. Jake's cabin flew open and Mark and Duke breezed in. The elderly man turned in his chair by the window to flash the youngster a broad smile.

The big collie stretched out on the floor by the fireplace as his master pulled up a chair facing the old lawyer. "Hey, Mr. Jake," Mark exclaimed, "you did a swell job getting Duke off the hook. My dad thinks he should pay you a fee or something."

Find Real Culprit
The veteran lawyer brushed off the suggestion with a broad smile. "Twigs had quite a racket going for himself," he explained. "He was collecting pay from his neighbors by claiming their dogs had killed his calves — when actually the animals were slaughtered by mountain lions. Even admitted it when we faced him with the evidence."

Mark whistled softly. "Suffering cats! How did you get wise to the creep?"

"When the sheriff rode with me to Twigs' place and we found all the mountain lion tracks and no sign of dogs I knew we had him," Mr. Jake went on. "But I knew he was lying at the start when he claimed he saw Duke in his corral by moonlight. There was no moon that night and I have an almanac to prove it! The real clincher though, was his description of the big dog burying a bone."

"Yeah, that was a swell deal, Mr. Jake," Mark exclaimed. "But about Duke burying the bone? What did that have to do with it anyway?"

With his tail thumping the floor Duke raised his big head and barked his approval. Then he went back to sleep.

BATTERED BIRD—Canus, one of only eight whooping cranes in captivity, may fly again under his own power, but for now he's doing his soaring in planes. The big bird, important to wildlife experts because of the near extinction of the species, was found floundering in Canada in September of 1964. Canus (so named because he was found in Canada and treated in the U.S.) was flown to a wildlife refuge in Colorado to convalesce. He took to the air again (top picture) to be taken to Colorado
State University, where an operation was performed.
Doctors say the surgery was a success (lower picture), but Canus will have to rest for several months before it's known if he'll ever fly on his own again.

Beard Regains Victory Form For Texas Win

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Young Frank Beard was just getting back in the swing of his golf game about this time last year after a serious attack of encephalitis knocked him off the PGA tour for six weeks.

"I started hitting the ball pretty good right away," the soft-spoken 25-year-old said, "the first few rounds after his recovery."

And Sunday, Beard struck the champion's route for the second time in his pro career by taking a three-stroke victory in the $50,000 Texas Open. He won $7,500.

Beard, raised in Dallas, but now of Louisville, Ky., proved himself a calm, steady pressure player by mastering the par 35-50 Oak Hills Country Club course with a 35-33-68.

He had challengers to the title all the way, including Gardner Dickinson Jr., who finished second with a 273 to pick up $4,000. Beard's card was 70-67-65-69-270.

Beard started two strokes behind Jack Cupit, the third-round leader, and found himself in trouble early in the round by three putts for a bogey on the third hole.

From then on he was on his way to victory.

Cupit finished with a five-over-par 75, for a 275 and a tie for fourth.

Bert Weaver, the tour's 10th-leading money winner before the tournament, made the most determined bid, but double bogied the last two holes to finish with a 73 and 276.

Tommy Aaron, second-round leader, managed a 70 to go with earlier rounds of 66, 66 and 72 for a 274 that left him in a tie for third with Bob Verwey and Steve Oppermann. Each got $2,933.

Beard, whose only other PGA victory was the Frank Sinatra Open in 1963, is not qualified for the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas, Nev., this week.

RAIN WASHES OUT REDBIRDS-BRAVES

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The rain washed out St. Louis Cardinals' single contest Sunday at Cincinnati and the Redbirds have an open date today.

St. Louis opens a three-game set Tuesday night at Milwaukee. The world champions rest in the National League cellar with only three victories in nine games. They are 3½ games from the top.

The Cardinals may again be missing their power-hitting third baseman Ken Boyer when they open in Milwaukee. Boyer missed the two games in Cincinnati because of a sore back. He returned to St. Louis for treatment Sunday and was expected to take hitting practice today to test the back. Ed Spiezio has replaced him at third base.

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Russell, giant rallying figure of the ceaseless Celtics, called it "the most satisfying year of all."

A few hours later, he was confined to bed, suffering from undetermined injuries to his right eye.

Russell, who led Boston to an overpowering 129-66 triumph over Los Angeles Sunday for the Celtics' seventh straight National Basketball Association title, was ordered to bed Sunday night for treatment of injuries received when the Lakers' Jerry West accidentally poked him in the eye.

Dr. Baruch Sachs, an eye specialist, said the big center's condition was "a lot more serious than first thought" and "has got to be treated very carefully."

Dr. Sachs said internal hemorrhaging had resulted. He ordered Russell to bed for four or five days.

Neither Dr. Sachs nor the Celtics would say if there was danger of Russell's eyesight being impaired.

In the jubilant Celtics' dressing room after the game, Russell said the team had dedicated the season to Walter Brown, late club owner and founder.

"The season was something special because we broke the record with 62 victories. Then we proved we were worthy of it in the playoffs," Russell said.

"Naturally the first championship is still the biggest one for me," Coach Red Auerbach said. "But when we broke the record for victories this year I really wanted to win to prove we were the greatest team."

For the second straight game and the 11th of their last 22 playoff starts, the Celtics held a rival under 100 points. They held Dick Barnett scoreless after he had averaged 17.5 in the first four games. Tiring West scored 33 but only 12 before termination. He averaged 40.6 for 11 playoff games.

Boston ran off 20 straight points at the start of the final period for an insurmountable 107-71 bulge. The 20 Celtics' field goals in that quarter were a playoff championship record.

Russell scored 22 points, grabbed 30 rebounds and had four assists before leaving to a thunderous ovation six minutes before the end. Sam Jones also had 22, K.C. Jones tied his personal game high with 20, Johnny Havlicek added 18 and Tom Sanders 16.

"I'll say it again. This is the greatest team I ever saw," said Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus, whose team was eliminated in five games without All-Star forward Elgin Baylor, hobbled by a knee ailment.

"That Boston four-man defensive press and then to find Russell waiting for you under the basket—that's a helluva sight," added Schaus.

Michigan Nabs Big Ten Margin

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan's Wolverines grabbed the lead in the Big Ten baseball race following the first weekend of competition.

The Wolverines knocked off Wisconsin 8-5 Friday and then swept a doubleheader from Northwestern Saturday, 4-3 and 2-1, to remain the only undefeated team in conference competition. Defending champion Minnesota, Illinois, Ohio State and Michigan State all split doubleheaders Saturday after winning Friday to tie for second place, one game behind the Wolverines.

Purdue and Iowa, both defeated Friday were rained out of their doubleheader at Iowa City.

Minnesota came from behind in the second game for a 5-2 triumph after losing the first game to Illinois 10-5. The Illini are far ahead of their 1964 pace when they finished last with a 1-14 mark.

Ohio State defeated Indiana 6-5 but the Hoosiers came back to win the nightcap, 1-0, in 10 innings on Bernie Krueger's run-scoring single with two out. Rich Scott went all the way for Indiana, limiting the Buckeyes to two hits.

Wisconsin defeated Michigan State 5-4 but dropped the second game 5-1 on the pitching and hitting of John Krasnan. Krasnan hurled a three-hitter and collected one of his two hits in a two-run, third inning rally. Michigan will go on the road this weekend and might have difficulty remaining undefeated. The Wolverines are at Purdue Friday and at Illinois in a Saturday doubleheader.

Other games Friday find Indiana at Wisconsin, Michigan State at Illinois, Minnesota at Iowa and Ohio State at Northwestern. Other doubleheaders Saturday have Indiana at Northwestern, Michigan State at Purdue, Minnesota at Iowa and Ohio State at Wisconsin.

Russell scored 22 points, grabbed 30 rebounds and had four assists before leaving to a thunderous ovation six minutes before the end. Sam Jones also had 22, K.C. Jones tied his personal game high with 20, Johnny Havlicek added 18 and Tom Sanders 16.

Boy Aims Rifle At Motorists

and Susan, 8 months, escaped injury.

The gunfire exchange with officers began after the boy shot into the Reida car. Lucille Reida, 44, who suffered minor wounds from flying glass and metal, pushed her husband aside and drove the car out of range. She told officers later, she had never driven before.

An unidentified truck driver drove the Reida family eight miles north to a hospital in Santa Maria, 180 miles north of Los Angeles.

Then, more than 50 Santa Barbara County sheriff's deputies, Santa Maria policemen and California Highway Patrol officers converged on the scene, after halting traffic for several miles on either side of the battle area.

The youth by then had hit seven vehicles, including Reida's, a police car, two trucks and one of three ambulances that raced to the scene. Seven other persons were wounded by bullets, bullet fragments or flying glass, none seriously.

Officers fired from behind a barricade provided by truck driver Lloyd Ritchie, 41, of Van Nuys, who crouched low over his wheel and drove his oil-twig directly into the youth's rifle range.

Billy Graham Holds Revival In Montgomery

By REX THOMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham began the second phase of his crusade in Alabama today with a warning to guard against "wild rumors."

After two outdoor revivals, one cut short by rain, and a television broadcast at Dothan, Graham drove here Sunday night en route to Tuscaloosa for a crusade at the University of Alabama football stadium to-night.

He speaks again Tuesday morning at Auburn University's football field and Tuesday night at Tuskegee Institute.

Before driving to Tuscaloosa, Graham arranged a conference today with white and Negro ministers in Montgomery serving on a temporary committee to make preliminary arrangements for the revival here.

At the outset of his televised sermon, he spoke of "some rather wild rumors" which greeted him on his arrival at the southeast Alabama city. They dealt, he said, with "what was to happen and what I was to do."

"I hope the next time you hear rumors you will check them out," Graham admonished his viewers. "Rumors can be very damaging to a community."

One of the unverified reports most prevalent before Graham arrived was that President Johnson had asked him to come to Alabama because of recent racial troubles.

Lorenzen Wins Martinsville

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Fred Lorenzen says mechanic Jack Sullivan's "Think" sign reminded him to conserve his brakes and enabled Lorenzen to win his fourth 250-mile stock car race at Martinsville Speedway.

Lorenzen, 29, of Elmhurst, Ill., wheeled his 1965 Ford across the finish line two seconds ahead of Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach, Fla. Sunday to win the Virginia 500 and $4,400. It raised his earnings for the year to $35,075, highest on NASCAR's late model circuit.

Pole winner Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., set a blistering pace but blew three tires and left the race after the third lap when he hit the north turn wall.

"When Junior returned to the track after the first blowout," said Lorenzen, "I was planning to run right up there with him instead of laying back as we had planned in order to conserve our brakes."

"But after just a few laps of that, Sullivan wrote 'Think' on the board and I settled back down."

"Had I continued to run at the speed Junior was running, I would not have brakes at the end and Marvin Panch would have caught me."

Sadly Flee Home After Dike Break

Weary volunteers labored in the darkness Sunday night in an effort to reinforce a soggy earthen levee which held back the swollen river.

A break in the levee would flood an area of about 50 residential and business blocks.

James Taylor, Rock Island city health officer, said flood waters could be expected in a large area of west Rock Island, which borders the river.

Says U.S. Has Picked Targets In Red China

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top Air Force missile general says the United States has targets picked out in Red China to destroy key government, command and industrial centers in the event of a general war.

The officer, Maj. Gen. John P. Lavelle, indicated Peking's new nuclear facility was one of those targets.

Lavelle, a deputy chief of staff and director of aerospace programs, testified Feb. 23 on the Air Force budget at a closed hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee. His censored testimony was made public today.

Lavelle said in reply to questions that the United States, if attacked, would have the capability of simultaneously hitting targets in Red China, the Soviet Union and "a satellite area."

He said the missiles would inflict what the Pentagon calls "unacceptably high levels of destruction."

However, he noted Red China's industry "is spread out in small factories everywhere and we would not have the same capacity with the Chinese industry."

But, Lavelle added, "our theater forces should be able to inflict an unacceptable level of destruction" on Red China.

Bolster Dikes In Quad-Cities

weekend, the Weather Bureau said.

The floods will occur from Keokuk, Iowa, through Hannibal, Mo., the bureau said. "This will be a critical flood situation for the entire area and local officials and the public should take steps to prepare for the rises."

The Quad Cities area in Illinois and Iowa with a combined population of 250,000 was the prime danger spot. The area is composed of Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa.

In Rock Island, workers labored around the clock to reinforce the earthen dam, the only protection for the housing complex. Most residents had been evacuated after a warning from Mayor Forrest Muhleman that water was seeping through the dike. More than 1,000 volunteers worked with Army engineers to reinforce the levee.

Another dike broke in Rock Island Sunday, covering the equivalent of a 54-block industrial area with six feet of water. The 400 residents had been evacuated.

The latest reading of the waters in Rock Island, a city of 51,000 in the northwestern corner of Illinois near the Iowa border, was 21 feet. Flood stage is 15 feet. A crest of 22 1/2 feet is expected Tuesday or Wednesday.

One-third of East Moline's 2,000 residents have been evacuated. More than 20 blocks of the city's Watertown area are under water.

An official said that 168 of 188 houses in an East Moline housing authority were inundated.

Volunteers reinforced an emergency dike to hold the flood waters from Moline's water plant. Officials feared the quarter-mile dike might break, knocking out the water supply for the city's 48,000 residents.

Mayor James Arndt of Moline urged residents to store enough water for a week.

In Bettendorf, Iowa, across the river from East Moline, officials said the town's only levee covering one side of the community would not hold. Many of the town's 11,500 persons worked on reinforcing the levee.

In Davenport, Iowa, workmen waded through waist-deep water to remove mechanisms from parking meters so they would not rust when the crest hits.

The river apparently leveled in Dubuque. The rain-soaked Dubuque dikes held as the river reached its apparent crest nearly 10 feet above flood stage.

"I am confident we have this thing licked," said Mayor Robert Horgan of Dubuque. "We are going to win."

Damara in Illinois was estimated by Gov. Otto Kerner at $30 million.

Ag Unit Tells Error In Bean Stocks Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that stocks of soybeans stored on April 1 should have been 346,882,000 bushels instead of the 337,487,000 bushels reported Friday.

The department announced this change in the supply figure of this very sensitive farm commodity.

Soybeans have been the most active of the farm commodities traded in future commodities markets.

This activity has reflected the fact that supply and demand have been in close balance for a number of years — a situation quite in contrast with other grains and cotton which have been available in surplus supplies.

The department said its Friday report gave stocks stored in off-farm positions in Minnesota at 14,195,000 bushels. The figure should have been, it said, 23,590,000 bushels.

Today's correction was expected by department officials to have a bearish influence on prices in contrast to the bullish influence which had been expected on the basis on Friday's figures.

Report Steel Ready To Raise Pay Hike Offer

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The steel industry was reported ready today to raise its offer of a two-per cent pay hike for the United Steelworkers Union in exchange for a strike postponement.

It was the first time negotiators for 11 major steel companies were reported ready to sweeten the pot in their high-stakes poker game with the union.

The development came amid signs of strong pressure from the Johnson administration, which believes a strike would be a disaster to the nation's booming economy.

There was no indication of how much the industry was willing to boost the ante to postpone Saturday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

The industry's previous 2 per cent offer, estimated as amounting to 5 to 7 cents, is a long way from union demands totaling 17.9 cents an hour.

While the industry's new offer was worked out in secret, top administration officials in Washington warned a steel strike would take the steam out of the economic boom for which President Johnson claims major credit.

At the same time, it was learned, the steel industry warned the administration that in boosting its money offer for labor peace, it will almost certainly have to raise steel prices.

While the Johnson administration would prefer no price hikes that might boost most other living costs, it is believed this would be more acceptable to the White House than an economy-crippling strike.

Rule Louisiana Subversive Law Sections Invalid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court declared invalid today major sections of Louisiana's subversive activities and Communist control laws and the state's Communist propaganda control law.

Validity of the laws was questioned in an appeal by Southern Conference Educational Fund, Inc., and three individuals. The appeal asserted the laws were used to harass persons who advocate civil rights for Negroes and to aid in enforcing Louisiana's policy of racial segregation.

Justice William J. Brennan delivered the 5-2 decision. Justice John M. Harlan wrote a dissenting opinion, in which Justice Tom C. Clark joined.

Justice Hugo L. Black and Potter Stewart took no part in the case.

Brennan said a lower federal court was wrong in refusing to act in the case before state courts construed the laws, and also erred in refusing an injunction against state court prosecutions.

Today's ruling declared invalid sections of the law requiring registration of persons who are members of communist-front organizations, making it a felony to assist in formation of a subversive organization and giving the definition of a subversive organization.

However, the high tribunal said the lower federal court should hold a hearing to determine legality of sections of the statute which complaining civil rights workers said restricted their activities in the civil rights field.

FEED GRAINS, BEANS MAKE WIDE STRIDES

CHICAGO (AP)—The feed grains and soybeans made moderate to broad advances in the grain futures market today but wheat and rye weakened under pressure of liquidation.

Old crop soybeans had gains of more than two cents a bushel in spots but offerings were fairly liberal at those advances and prices backed down somewhat.

Some analysts said the government's estimate of 346.8 million bushels in all position on April 1 was of itself hardly more than mildly bullish although it may have surprised a few speculators who quickly adjusted commitments.

The feed grains were believed to have driven a little firmer from the report. They moved major fractions in spots during the first several minutes.

Soybeans were unchanged to 2 1/2 cents a bushel higher, May $2.99 1/2, wheat 1/4 higher to 1 1/4 lower, May $1.47 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May $1.33 1/2; oats 3/4 to 1/2 lower, May $1.17.

Sees Connection In Mental Ills, Job Security

CHICAGO (AP)—A psychiatrist said Monday there appears to be a correlation between economic deprivation and chronic mental illness.

Dr. Louis Jacobs said there also appears to be a relationship of job status to security and thus to mental health.

Dr. Jacobs, chief of the Division of Foreign Quarantine of the U. S. Public Health Service, told doctors attending the Second American Medical Association Congress on Environmental Health Problems:

"Some of the evidence of the results of economic depression or lack of confidence in the future, of which the highest suicide and low reproductive rates may be expressions, may indicate that adverse economic and social stresses may well have been responsible for a real rise in neurotic illness in recent times."

He said statistics rules out some theories that a speedup in the modern way of living has increased the incidence of mental illness.
